

Questions & Answers (Q&As)

Endeavour Foundation Membership

1. Who can be a Member of Endeavour Foundation?

People aged 18 or over can be Members of Endeavour Foundation. We encourage membership from people we support, their families, carers and anyone interested in promoting the rights and wellbeing of people with a disability.

Our members often have a connection with Endeavour Foundation as a person with disability, a family or carer, employee, volunteer, fundraiser, donator or supporter of our events.

2. Why be a Member of Endeavour Foundation?

As a Member of Endeavour Foundation, you:

- join a community committed to championing inclusion, choice, and human rights for people with intellectual disability.
- have a real voice in shaping the organisation and the broader disability sector.
- actively contribute to lasting positive change through voting, engagement, and support.

Members have the opportunity to:

- be part of an organisation that leads the way in the disability sector.
- advocate for the rights of people with intellectual disability to feel included, empowered and lead full and purposeful lives where they can exercise choice and control.
- provide input and feedback to our representatives to support Endeavour Foundation's continual improvement and growth.
- attend our Annual General Meeting (AGM).
- vote on important matters impacting the people we support.
- elect Directors of the Endeavour Foundation Board.
- participate in support of our events, fundraising and philanthropy.
- express interest in joining a Service Advisory Group.

3. What are the fees to be a Member of Endeavour Foundation?

Our Membership By-Laws define the following membership fee structure.

Membership is free for Clients, Life and Honorary Members. There is a $50 annual fee (1 July to 30 June) for all other Members. If a person becomes a Member after 1 January the fee is $25 for Membership until 30 June of that year.
