Turn your pay into opportunity for people with disability

Workplace giving is one of the easiest and most powerful ways to create real change for people with disability.

With a small pre-tax donation each pay, you'll help fund vital programs that aren't covered by the NDIS, opening doors to employment, improving health and wellbeing, and strengthening advocacy for people with disability.

Endeavour Foundation is an independent, for-purpose organisation supporting people with disability to live, learn, work and thrive.

While the NDIS funds essential services, it doesn't cover everything. Many of the programs that create real opportunity—like employment pathways, health initiatives, and advocacy—remain unfunded.

That's where supporters like you make the difference.

What your donation makes possible

Your regular gift helps fund Endeavour Foundation's three Great Endeavours—areas where we can create the greatest impact, but receive little to no government funding.

Employment

Help people with disability build skills, gain confidence, and find jobs they love.

Health and Wellbeing

Support better physical and mental health through tailored programs and better access to care.

Advocacy

Empower people with disability to speak up, be heard, and shape the systems that affect their lives.

Did you know that NDIS funding and government grants only account for 68% of what is needed to ensure people with disability can live their best lives?

What gets us to 100% of what is needed is people like you.

How Does It Work?

1. Fill out the attached pledge form

2. Submit to your payroll team

3. Your donation is taken from your pre-tax pay and you do not need to do anything else

The tax benefit is received immediately without having to wait until the end of the tax year or collect receipts.

You can change or cancel your donation at any time by contacting your Payroll team.

Workplace giving does not affect your superannuation or payroll tax calculations and is not counted as a fringe benefit.

A workplace giving donation reduces your PAYG liability without decreasing your gross income.

If your organisation has chosen to match donations, your contribution means that Endeavour Foundation will receive double the amount of your pledge towards supporting people with disability.
